Progress of the Belknap Impeachment Proceedings.

ANTICIPATED ACTION OF THE SENATE.

Ex-Attorney General Akerman on the Secret Service Fund Expenditure.

THE PRIME MINISTER OF SAMOA.

The Proper Method of Suppressing the Border Raids.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT. WARHINGTON, April 25, 1876.

THE IMPRESSION CREATED BY BELKNAP'S RE-JOINDER-PROBABLE ACTION OF THE SENATE. The rejoinder made yesterday by Mr. Belknap's law-yers is not thought to strengthen his case. In some resigned because he thought thus to prevent impeach ment, is held to be a virtual confession of guilt. He resigned, it is said in the rejoinder, because Mr. Clymer had said that unless be resigned at once Clymer would move for an impeachment sgainst him and it is pretended that he bad thus reason to believe that, if he resigned, he would not be impeached. But it is clear that not Mr. Clymer nor even the whole committee could have given him such a guarantee, as that was a matter for the House to decide on when the committee had made its report, and, whatever conversation may have passed between Mr. Belknap and his counsel, was clearly not an agreement. It is generally believed that the Senate will hold that Belkaap is impeachable, as to hold dif-ferently would be to declare that an officer may always defeat justice by adroitly resigning in time, and this would be absurd, but Senators are very reticent on the subject.

THE MEXICAN BORDER TROUBLES-OPPOSITION TO THE RESOLUTION REGARDING THE PAS-SAGE OF OUR TROOPS INTO MEXICO-THE "NEW BOUNDARY" LINE AGITATION.

There is a growing indisposition in the House to pass the resolution authorizing the President to order our troops on the Mexican frontier to pursue marauders across the border and punish them on Mexican soil It is thought that a public and formal authorization of such acts by Congress will necessarily give offence to the Mexican government, will embarrass it fatally with its own people, and would almost certainly lead In fact, such an authorization by Congress is held by many persons to be equiva-lent to a declaration of war, and the crossing of the border by our troops under such an order would be, it is said, an act of war. It is not disputed that great and frequent outrages are practise by Mexican robbers upon our border population, but it is said that the Mexican government, while it is too by our troops, under judicious commanders, punishing the Mexican desperadoes on Mexican soil so long as there was no formal and public authorization of such a policy by Congress. It would not see what was not forced on its attention, but it would be forced to resent an insult. If American troops find them selves, in the heat of the chase after robbers, on Mexican soil, and there catch and hang the desperadoes, Mexico need not call us to account for this. It may quietly thank us for ridding it of rogues; but if Congress should openly demand a violation of Mexican territory this would be another matter, and would directly tend to aisorganize the settled govern-

Meantime there are here not a few persons who would like to see a new Mexican war, as an opening for profitfor the acquisition of a new slice of Mexican territory, and the proposed new boundary continues to be discussed in private and is fixed with telerable accuracy. STEINBERGER AND FAR OFF SAMOA-NO GRAVE difficulty, for the simple reason that Steinberger is not an American citizen, and the fact that he has fallen into trouble with the Samoan King, whose Prime Minister, and consequently subject, he was, does not concern this government, which does not hold itself bound to protect the Samoan Prime Minister against the dis-

COMPLICATIONS ANTICIPATED-THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT NOT INCLINED TO INTERFERE RETWEEN A PRIME MINISTER AND HIS KING.... SOME DETAILS OF THE ADVENTURE. There will be no Steinberger affair nor any Samoan

The House, some days ago, called upon the State De partment for the papers relating to Stemberger's adventures in Samoa, and they are expected te-morrow. Steinberger was originally, it is said, a hanger-on an office seeker here who, in some way, made himself serviceable to persons at the White House and gained the friendship of General Babcock. The story goes that after for some time soliciting a Consulship somewhere, and always finding the Secretary of State indisposed to favor him, he at last secured influence enough to get the President to appoint him a agent to visit and report upon the Samoan Islands. This was in March, 1873. He sailed from San Francisco in June of the same year, returned in 1874 and made a report to the State De partment, which he seems to have neglected to date but which was sent in to Congress in April, 1874. In this report he speaks of "instructions from the depart ment" and "oral suggestions," but he evidently mannited his office as much as possible, and when he returned he disappeared from public notice. He was next beard of last spring setting out for Samon in a United States man-of-war with a gift of cancon, firearms and other government property, and, being landed, he dropped his American citizenship Chief. Of course he could not be a Samoan and an American at the same time. He may recover his citihe divested himself, it is here held, of his title to pro tection from our government when he became a points a very formal and conspicuous manner is well known by a committee of Congress to give the particulars of the Samoan commercial company in which several influ-ential persons here are said to be concerned and whose agent Steinberger is said to be; also on what secount and by what influence he obtained the cannot and firearms as we'll as a free passage in a government thin. He certainly bore no credentials or authority from this government on his last expedition.

THE CONSULAR AND DIPLOMATIC APPROPRIA-TION BILL-ANTICIPATED ACTION OF THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE. A good many of the democrats in both Houses be tere that the Appropriation Committee cut down the Consular and Diplomatic bill too closely and, in some ways, injudiciously, and it is probable that in the con erence committee of the two Houses, which has today been asked for by the Senate, many of the Senat amendments will be agreed to. In several important ways the bill as it passed the House would cripple our seniar service and seriously injure our commerce, and the bill had the defect of neglecting almost entirely relations with the Central and South American States, with which we ought to assiduously cultivate friendly and commercial relations. The commerce of e rich countries is now almost entirely in British and German hands; with proper efforts it might, at small cost, be turned in our direction.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, April 25, 1876. SENERAL INGALLS AND THE MOTH EXTER-MINATOR-HIS COMMENTS ON THE TESTI-MONY OF DONN PLATT BEFORE THE COM-

General Rulus Ingalis, Deputy Quartermaster Gentral, in talking humorously to-day about what would be the purport of his testimony to-morrow, said that he had been called the "old clotheswringer" and "wash-tub" by Mr. Platt in the capital, but he thought now. from the evidence of the latter, he was the veritable clotheswringer and washtub himself. He further says that when the Secretary of War first heard that Mr. Piatt had been engaged in some business in which it was given out that he had influence with him, he sent for him and told him that if any such representations had been made they must be corrected and stopped and that any connections with the department which were based on this would be immediately severed. General Ingalls contends that Mr. Platt has ingeniously twisted the truth all round, to use his exwhat was a mercenary transaction from the beginning.

He was not the first one on the commission of officers to pass upon the invention for the prevention of moths. This place was held by General Marcy and he was second. He repudiates all knowledge of the Burnetizing process until long after he was placed on the commission, much against his wishes, and he loughs at the absurdity of the representations or hypothesis offered by Mr. Piatt in regard to his having any interes or having been in any way influenced in his official action while on the Board of Examination. General Ingalls' testimony will be a full denial of what has been attributed to him derogatory of his good name. EX-GUERILLA MOSBY'S INFLUENCE AT THE

WHITE HOUSE-AN EX-UNION SOLDIER OR-DERED TO BE DISPLACED FOR AN EX-REBEL-GENERAL JEWELL'S DISOBEDIENCE OF THE ORDER.

Recent frequent visits of Mosby, the ex-guerille chieftain, to President Grant have excited considerable surprise, and the friends of the administration are at a loss to know what they mean and how to account for them. The latest manifestation of his influence has been exhibited in the case of a removal of an appointhad been a Confederate soldier and serve1 Mosby as a scout. He was replaced by an ex-Union sol-The President, upon the representations of Mosby, directed the Postmaster General to and Vankee spirit of Postmaster General Jewell rebelled and he flatly refused to restore Chapman to the place from which he was removed, saying that Presi-dent Grant might be able to afford to do that, but he could not, and he accordingly directed that Bradley be retained on his own account, Chapman, however, recelving another place. It is not yet known whether Governor Jowell, but it is thought not unlikely that Mosby will contend that his influence has not been sufficiently recognized nor the orders of the President obeyed until the ex-rebel Chapman shall be restored to the place from which he was originally removed and that he will be satisfied with nothing short of this, nor will he submit to being outdone by a Yankee. INSUPPLICIENCY IN THE APPROPRIATIONS-THE

ARMY TO REMAIN UNPAID FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE

The bill to supply deficiencies in the appropriations for the fiscal year expiring June 80 has been subjected to the cheese paring process so thoroughly in all its de-tails that the allowance to the army will be insufficient to liquidate the pay roll for the month of June. As ne to supply this deficiency until the nothing can be do next meeting of Congress the army will have to go without this much of their pay until next year.

GENERAL WASHINGTON DESPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, April 25, 1876.

THE IMPEACEMENT PROCEEDINGS-GENERAL BELKNAP AGGRIEVED AT THE STATEMENTS OF GENERAL CUSTER-THE EX-SECRETARY'S ADMINISTRATION OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT-WHAT HE EXPECTS TO RETABLISH-HIS MODE OF LIVING.

It is ascertained from friends of General Belknap that he feels very much aggrieved at the statements of General Custer, who testified before the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department that if he had done his duty there could have been no frauds in the management of Indian post traderships, which are confounded with the military post traders. Indian post traders are appointed by the Secretary of the Inrior and not by the Secretary of War, and are entirely under his control and management. While General Belknap was Secretary of War the disbursements of the department were over $330,000,000, not a dollar which could be expended without his signature, and not apenny of which remains unaccounted for. This fact he intends to show, and he will also show, if he shall have an opportunity, by the testimony of the Wa and other departments and their subordinates, and by the division generals of the army, that for promptness integrity and general efficiency his administration ha never been surpassed. It has been charged that the practice of purchasing post traierships is universall every one of the 180 post traders to refute the hearsa; stimony on this point. There has been much said about the ex-Secretar being forced to obtain money corruptly to maintain his count of his housekeeping expenditures, extending over about three years, and his books and bills, month by month, show that, with possibly two exception his expenditures were less than his salary as Secretary By way of example, his house rent is $1,500, and ha never been more than $2,000. These facts will serve t indicate his probable defence in his approaching trial to the Chairman of the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department will be utterly refuted, and the his case is in many respects unwarranted.

THE SUR-REJOINDER OF THE HOUSE TO THE REJOINDER OF GENERAL BELKNAP-A PLRA

The impeachment managers of the House of Representatives to-day filed with the Secretary of the Senate their sur-rejoinder to the rejoinder of General Belknap, of the House and of all the people of the United States the assertions of their first replication to the plea of William W. Belknap, to the effect that the Senate has invisdiction to hear and determine the articles of impeachment preferred, and that the House of Representatives is ready to verify and prove the same, and con Wherefore, inasmuch as the said William W. Belknap hath not answered the articles of imposchment or in ady manner denied the same, the said House of Repre-sentatives pray judgment thereon according to law. In the next place they accept so much of General Belknap's rejoinder as "demands trial according to law;" but as to the remainder of his rejoinder they deny that the House of Representatives should be barred from maintaining the said articles of impeachment against him by reason of any of the statement contained therein; because, reserving to themselves all advantages of exception to the insufficiency of said statements, they deny each and every averment which denies or traverses the acts and intents charged against said defendant in their second replication, and they reaffirm the truth of the matters stated therein and pray judgment thereon according to law. . The sur-rejoinder of Representatives.

WITNESSES SUMMONED FOR THE IMPEACHMENT

haif of the managers to appear next Thursday and give testimony in the Belknap impeachment trial:—Mr. and Mrs. Careb P. Marsh, H. F. Vail, Carbier of the Bank of Commerce, New York; E. T. Bartlett, lawyer, of New York, and General George A. Custer, United States Army.

Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Christy, who returned from New York this morning, reports having made personal service on all these witnesses except Mrs. Marsh, who was Ill, and for whom a certified copy of the summons was left with her husband.

THE MISAPPROPRIATION OF THE SECRET SEE-VICE FUND-EX-ATTORNEY GENERAL AKER-MAN ANSWERS UNDER PROTEST.

Ex-Attorney General Akerman was before the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice to-day, and in answer to the question as to whether he had consulted with the President before paying the money over to Davenport Mr. Akerman put in a protest against answering, on the ground that it was both fliegal and prohibited by statute that such communications with the Executive should be made public. He then testified to conversations similar to those narrated by ex Attorney General Williams with the Presi-

Miss Kate Claxton will have a benefit at the Union

Square Theatre on Friday evening. There are few artistes more popular in New York than this lady, who created the principal part in the "Two Orphans" and the heroine of "Ferreol." Miss Claxton is one of the most charming of our actresses, and will, no doubt,

Owing to the illness of Mr. Karl, tenor, the promised performance of "Mignon," which was to take piace this evening at the Academy of Music, is unavoidably postponed. So much for the judgment of bringing to America such a clever artiste as Mile, de Belocca and depending upon a "scratch" company for support. No prima donna could obtain success with such people as those who surrounded Mile de Belocca. Yet the management has not yet definitely abandoned the idea of giving what may in courtesy be called the last night of "the season."

THE CENTENNIAL BALL

A ball was given at the Academy of Music last night in honor of "Our Centennial Union." The attendance was very small. Balls at this advanced period of the season are rarely well attended. Lent generally puts a stop to all fashionable affairs, and, although there were many representative people at the Academy last even-ing, the affair cannot be called a success. The dancing ing, the affair cannot be called a success. The dancing floor was thinly patronized. On no occasion where there more than a score of couples on it, responding to the beautiful music contributed by Grafulia and Lander. The toilets of the ladies were exceedingly handsome in some instances, and very much resembled those we saw at the Charity, Infant Asylum and Orphan balls in others. There was a marked feeling on the part of the majority of the ladies present that the recular ball season had passed, and that not even the sweet voice of charity in centegnial tones was potent enough to induce them to call upon Dame Fashion for new and bowlidering dresses. The best part of the ball was the music. Mr. Lander, with a fine orchestra, gave the following selections:—1. quadrille, "Mode;" 2. waltz, "Lebenswecker;" 3. galop, "Argonanta;" 4. waltz, "Cagliostro;" 5. galop, "Invincible;" 6. lancers, "Saratoga;" 7. waitz, "Lebenspulse;" 8. galop, "En Avant;" 9. waltz, "Hessere Zoiten;" 10. galop, "Unter den Enns;" 11. quadrille, "Wiegana; 12. waltz, "Wallack;" 13. galop, "Werposten;" 15. galop, "Werposten;" 15. galop, "Worposten;" 16. lanciers, "Cavaller;" 17. waitz, "Jolly Fellows;" 18. galop, "Vorposten;" 19. waltz, "Visionen;" 20. polka, "Bismarck;" 17. waitz, "Jolly Fellows;" 18. galop, "Worposten;" 19. waltz, "Jolly Fellows;" 6.
